

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The seat back of a seat is attached to a seat recliner mechanism. As the seat back is moved, it moves in a curvilinear motion centered about or near the seat H-Point. The seat recliner mechanism, attached to the seat back, has arcuate slots. The center of the curves of these arcuate slots are located at or near the seat H-Point. A seat recliner system has two seat recliner mechanisms operating in tandem.

5 872515-5